This presentation will serve as a guide to help those interested in applying to a medical residency in the United States. Acceptance in to a US residency is challenging, and even more so for International Medical Graduates (IMG). During this presentation, we'll walk through the application process, highlighting key deadlines, requirements, and decisions, to include:

- The Educational Commission for Foreign Medical Graduates (ECFMG);
- The United States Medical Licensing Exam (USMLE) Step 1, 2, and 3;
- The Electronic Residency Application Service (ERAS); and
- Things to consider when selecting potential residency programs.

We'll conclude the discussion with recommendations for becoming a competitive applicant, such as Letters of Recommendation (LOR), interview tips and techniques, and unique fellowship programs in Japan.
